

Snow Painting

submitted by Vickie Ries

Needed: spray bottle food coloring
food flavorings (optional)

Directions: 1. Fill spray bottles with cold water. (You can buy some from $1 bins at Target. These are great for little hands, even with mittens).
2. Add food coloring to make a strong color.
3. Take the bottles outside. Turn the nozzle to a stream or spray (whatever fits the need....stream makes more immediate impact for the impatient ones!).

For additional sensory fun add flavorings such as: mint, almond, vanilla, anise, etc. to the water and see if the children can guess what scent they are smelling. They can paint their snowmen, color snow angels (spray works good to color wings), or decorate their igloos!
